The Next Day...

The next day Max went to an island on his boat. He saw hyenas eating meat. Mas was not scared of the wild hyenas. They growled at him and he roared at them. Then Max saw four more come to join them. They began to play. A lion came along. They lion smiled at Max. He was happy to see him. They became friends and played all day.

What the Wild Things Do When They Realize Max is Gone...

The wild things called Max and told him they are on the way to get him. They missed him. So they hopped in a car but it ran out of gas. Then they took the city bus. The door was jammed. They finally got it open and one of the wild things got his finger stuck in the door. He screamed and screamed. It was so loud that it started and avalanche. The bus was shaking. Then it rolled over and the wild things were never able to see Max again.

What Max Tells His Mother and Father About His Day...

Max told his mother and father that his roomed turned into a forest. He said he met wild things and became the king. His mother and father thought he was exaggerating. His parents took him to the doctor. The doctor didn't believe him either. He told his parents he really did see wild things. He was very upset with them and began to back sass his mother and father. His parents sent him to his room where he started to talk to himself. He imagined that the wild things were there and they had another rumpus. Later Max's parents called him down and finally believed him.

Max's Dinner...

Max had chicken noodle soup for dinner. The noodles came to life. They stayed in the bowl and began to talk to him. The noodles asked Max about how his adventure was. He was excited and told his story. Then he began to eat them while they danced and giggled into his tummy. They said, "We're going to see the wild things." For the side dish he had some bread and dip. They didn't talk. When he was finished, he put on his pajamas and went to bed.
